After a three day intensive online training workshop led by Ray Weiss from PRINTING UNITED Alliance, FESPA Australia is delighted to introduce our Certified Instructors who will be running a series of Colour Management online training sessions, the first of which will run from 26 – 28 October and will be facilitated by Jonny Rumney and Garth Koppel from Celmac.

“The goal of these sessions is to develop professionals who understand colour theory and principles and can manage consistent, predictable and repeatable colour on any system they manage.” Says Nigel Davies, President of FESPA Australia. “The first colour management bootcamp was a big success and exceeded our expectations with excellent feedback from students.”

The new look courses will now be conducted online and has been designed to be as interactive as possible with livestream Q&A allowing for immediate feedback. Run over three days and hosted by our certified industry experts in colour management, you will learn about colour theory and principles, goals of colour management, device calibration, time-tested procedures, newest print standards, spot colours, and print verification.

“FESPA Australia believes that our industry benefits when we leverage the technical expertise within our supplier community to educate our members. The Colour Management bootcamps are an example of how FESPA Australia is seeking to further best practice in this area.” We are very fortunate to work alongside these industry experts who have a wealth of experience gained from many years in the industry.”
